

The knowledge to compete

Spratt T3010 Information Return Clinic for Charities

Carleton University • Ottawa, Ontario

The Spratt School of Business, Spratt Centre for Social Enterprises and Centre for Voluntary Sector Research are organizing a tax clinic for charities.

The clinics offer charitable organizations pro-bono (free of charge) tax services, provided by Bachelor of Commerce and MBA students, to help them in preparing their T3010 information return.

This is a joint project from the Spratt Centre for Social Enterprises

www.spratt.carleton.ca/scse-cses and the Centre for Voluntary Sector Research and Development

www.cvsrd.org

as part of a project funded by Canada Revenue Agency. It is a part of the Charities File Project. More information on the Charities File Project could be found at www.thecharitiesfile.ca

For more information and registration, please contact charitiesclinic@spratt.carleton.ca

François Brouard, DBA, CA
Director
Spratt Centre for Social Enterprises

Paula Speevak Sladowski
Managing Director
Centre for Voluntary Sector Research and Development

